RSTMH

Early Career Grants Programme

Formerly called the Small Grants Programme

Our Early Career Grants Programme provides grants to early career researchers or professionals from anywhere in the world to carry out clinical or scientific research and/or fieldwork on any aspect of tropical medicine or global health.

Applications can be on any area of tropical medicine or global health, RSTMH's thematic priorities in its current strategy, plus other areas of health that are less well known are encouraged.

Grants of up to £5,000 are awarded and up to one year in duration.

If you have any questions on your proposal, please email amelia.fincham@RSTMH.org and tamar.ghosh@RSTMH.org.

Apply before 29 April 2022
